Delgado Design Has Evolved To Anamar Interior Design Firm Completes Renovation Of Iconic *Inn Above Tide

September 22, 2011 (SAN FRANCISCO, CA) – For nearly 25 years, Ana Maria Delgado's namesake firm, Delgado Design, has offered full-service interior design and custom furnishing services to luxury hospitality and residential clients around the world. Today, the firm announces its 2011 evolution from Delgado Design to Anamar, marking an additional new focus of delivering collectable art, accessories, antiques, and custom fashion pieces to the already established full-service interior design offering.

As Anamar's Owner and Principal Designer, Ana Maria's lifelong experience in and around international hotels, gives her a precise understanding of how design can evoke a seamless balance between "person" and "place." Under her direction, the Anamar team's distinct origins and cultures reflect the global perspective necessary to speak to a diverse clientele. "No matter the project," states Ana Maria, "our team works to achieve soulful, luxurious, balanced designs that simultaneously provide purpose and harmony for everyday living."

Most recently, the Anamar team has completed a large-scale interior renovation of the luxurious Inn Above Tide hotel in Sausalito, California. The Inn Above Tide engaged Ana Maria Delgado to remodel the iconic property with the specific design goal of upgrading the level of luxury and sophistication. The team was responsible for the new addition of the Penthouse Suite, the renovation of the Lobby, Drawing Room and hallways, and the overall redesign of guest rooms and bathroom interior décor. Each space was treated to new soft goods and casegoods selections including decorative lighting, wall and floor finishes, and a color palette to complement the bay views.

"From the moment we retained Ana Maria to redesign and upgrade our property with her sophisticated touch, it has been clear that she is a unique talent who understands what guests from every corner of the world would find appealing," says Mark Flaherty, General Manager at the Inn Above Tide. "Her ability to select furnishings, build a color palette, anticipate scale and craft comfort, maximizes the potential of each space she addresses and keeps our discerning clientele returning year after year."

"As a destination property for luxury-seekers from around the world, the Inn Above Tide sought a design aesthetic that would appeal to those who anticipate a universal standard of elegance and comfort," says Ana Maria. "The design solutions we developed to meet their objectives were both aesthetically and strategically based, which is a balance we aim to achieve with all of our clients. We took each space to the next level by specifying, sourcing and delivering unique products and exquisite pieces from around the world. Truly, their goals and our expertise were a perfect fit."
